In Moldova, grapes are a symbol of prosperity and a reward for the hard work of winemakers. Grape production in this region has a history of over 5,000 years. There have been trade routes for wine and table grapes for centuries.

Moldovan grapes were and are valued for their rich and complex aroma. Although almost 80 table grape varieties are grown, the black grape varieties Moldova, Codreanca (or Black Magic) and Muscat de Hamburg, the red varieties Cardinal and Apiren Roz, and the white varieties Italia, Victoria and Alb de Suruceni are the most popular.

Moldovan plums are in high demand in the local market as well as in the east and west. Plums are the second most exported fruit in Moldova, and the country is among the top ten exporters in the world based on the amount of freshly delivered plums.

Besides exporting fresh plums, Moldova is one of the main producers of dehydrated plums. Both fresh and dried plums from Moldova have seen a double increase in exports in recent years.

Sweet, juicy, tasty, fragrant, colorful ... you won't find enough words to describe the taste of Moldovan apples.

With an annual production of over 500,000 tons, Moldova is one of the ten largest apple exporting countries in the world. Apple orchards occupy about 56,000 hectares, and the areas of intensive orchards, which make it possible to obtain uniform and high-quality fruit, are constantly growing.
